Some people may wait long for a la carte dinner to get up at 6 a.m. to cross the sun loungersA hook 20 minutes to cross the wide complexthe room that may smell bad from the swampy giving mangroves and more cons refer to the most popular programs in this category. Puerto Morelos has 840 mega complex rooms modern décor. Awesome, pool complex, and food. There are 11 spacious swimming pools, some of them with sea views and pool bars; A Park kid; nine restaurants (reservations are not required); 24-hour room service; A lot of activities including yoga, Zumba and aqua aerobics; both children's and teen clubs; Luxurious spa with swimming pool; and a huge, modern fitness center. Beautiful rooms have whirlpool tubs, and floating options are available, as well as an adult-only hideaway section. There are some drawbacks - the most important of which is the hopeless beach. Other potential problems: not enough shade in the pool (ready to get up very quickly to hook up a shaded sun lounger), wait long for dinner at la carte restaurant, smell of swamp mangroves, and an expanding layout (the premises can take 20 minutes to walk to the other side). Those looking for a better beach should consider staying in the Cancun hotel area instead. See more summary casino cribs internet jacuzzi spa opened in 2015, Royalton looks exactly as much as the mega complex is. Guests need to bring comfortable walking shoes as it takes 15 to 20 minutes to move from one side of the station to the other. There are also many people in the high season, despite the impressive number of amenities (11 pools have a lot, but so are 840 rooms). This can result in guests having to get up early (reallly quickly) to hook up the best chairs in the room, and sometimes long queues at free restaurant reservations. Diamond Club guests can make their butler reservations and skip the wait, making it a worthwhile upgrade for many. The complex is very familiar, thanks to the abundance of children's clubs, club teens, and daily activities, but almost as many couples call, thanks to the adult-only hideaway section (one listed as complex within a complex). Families and couples can appreciate the choices of an exit swimming suite to a couple, and there are also dedicated suite options aimed at families. The lobby is spacious, open and airy with a floating deck surface on a decorative pool with marble tile floors, elegant wood accents, and river stones below. It offers great views over the Caribbean, and the presence of escalators and stairs leading to gardens and pools makes it a bit reminiscent of luxury shopping malls. Everything is bright and high level, and beautiful modern décor is an important part of the appeal here. Motifs include palm trees and greenery, a chapel, and plenty of avenues that stir their way into the middle of the pool and end up on the beach itself. It's one of the biggest luxury resort options in the area that allows children, albeit blue Hotels by Karishma and Dreams Riviera Cancun Resort & Spa are also great options worth considering - and both have significantly fewer rooms. See more views the Royalton is in the Puerto Morelos area, which is quieter and more secluded than Cancun - but it has less impressive beaches. It's about a 20-minute drive south of Cancun Airport, and 45 minutes from downtown Cancun or the hotel area. The small town of Puerto Morelos itself is a 25-minute drive south, and it's about an hour for Playa del Carmen. Fortunately, the city has the kind of expansion of this mega-complex to leave guests (not many) like, and there's literally nothing within walking distance of the station. When guests leave the premises, they go as part of the tour package; Xel-Há, with diving, zip line and lazy river, is very popular. Puerto Morelos is an old fishing village located halfway between Cancun and Playa del Carmen. The area serves as an agreement for those looking for stunning Cancun beaches, but they don't want them to be attacked by hordes of tourists (although the beaches here tend to be narrower than Cancun is better, and have more seaweed). Stunning reefs only attract a fair share of deep-sea divers, and many come to swim in internal cnotes (massive sinkholes filled with crystal clear groundwater). The relaxing atmosphere of the area makes it ideal for a day of comfort or entertainment, and relaxing with a dinner at a beach restaurant, all without fear of having to deal with noisy spring break packages. See more location Royalton's rooms all have the same luxury, modern décor, tile floors, wood, elegant and lots of cream and beige. The deluxe junior suite has entry-level category, and is still spacious enough, with a king-size bed or two queen-size beds and a sofa bed — allowing a maximum occupancy of five, which families will probably appreciate. The deluxe family suite adds a sliding door between the bedroom and a living room with a couch bed. Many rooms have the option of using type pools outside, and some luxury suites add jacuzzi with a rooftop balcony or sea views. The Diamond Club room is mostly different from its benefits and services only, but the president's two/three suite bedrooms are only available for those who opt for Diamond Club upgrades. Each room features a terrace or balcony with views of mangroves, ocean or interior gardens. Almost all buildings have a mangrove side (except building 6), and some guests facing the mangrove complain of the swampy smell, which it sits on a dirty balcony. Note that the front of the pool has some of the rooms designated as straight ocean view, but there's still a good perspective on the ocean as well. The bathroom is topped by white marble countertop two basin sinks, rain showers and separate spa baths. Bathrooms can't provide enough privacy for anything; Many units have a curtain separating the bathtub from the room, and a frost-covered glass wall in the shower. Features include high-density thread sheets, mini fridge soft drinks, beer and water, tea and coffee and stocked with 24-hour room service. On the tech front, a flat-screen satellite TV, USB recharge and Bluetooth audio station, Wi-Fi in all rooms, and battery instead of its internal power supply is secured in a room. Diamond Club guests have extras such as a better version of couture and slippers, butler service, and room service. See more rooms eleven Royalton pools are the main — and most prominent — focus of the resort. They are all located along the beach and walk along the entire campus. The pool has three bars as well as pool bars. In addition, there is a particularly impressive multi-level kid splash pool with slides and water sports. There are regular activities around some pools, such as aquafit. Introductory lessons for diving, are offered to you. On the beach, there are plenty of wicker sun loungers with cushions, but like in the pool, some umbrellas; However, the wooden slat is the number of pergolas that provide some (but not much) shade. There are many beach bars, and staff who provide sun lounger service; Diamond Club guests receive a separate section and their own beach bar. However, the beach itself is not super deep (at least not compared to parts in Cancun), and the remains of seaweed can be a problem. Seaweed grows in waters near the coast, which makes it murky at some points. The water is quieter here than cankun, allowing guests to enjoy non-motorized water sports equipment such as kayaks, snorkeling and paddleboards; Due to strong waves, these are not offered at some resorts in Cancun. However, there are no motorized water sports here due to the coral reef preserved on the high seas. Kids Club 4 to 12 years old includes appearances scheduled by cartoon characters Max & Ruby and Mike The Night. There are many TVs to watch movies at the Kids Club, as well as a couple of air hockey tables. There is a different teen club with elegant décor and more game tables. There are dramas at night, and Get mixed reviews; It's worth watching that the theater is out without air conditioning. The gym is modern and spacious, and has aerobics and weightlifting classes with professional trainers on offer. The Royal Spa is beautiful and has an impressive hydrotherapy circuit; A full range of services available including manhas and pedis, hairdressing, hairmoon and massage. There is more than 20.0 square feet of event space, including eight break rooms and ballrooms, including its own stages and locations for 1.0 people. There is a chapel and terrace area for weddings.
